“My experience with MPSI was great, what you learn goes far past being a leader in your field of work, but everyday life. I would recommend this class to all Supervisors, Directors, Crew leader, etc., you get to see and hear firsthand that the problems and issues that arise are not unique to just your organization but all organizations go through the same ups and downs. Being able to be with your peers, building a relationship to reach out and get input on how issues have been addressed by other organizations is a great tool to have.” Foreman Blake said.
